The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader

No, ABC television network did not confirm that its long-time favorite "Truth or Consequences" will be renamed "Watergate Caper" with Richard M. Nixon as master of ceremonies when he retires.

One teevee critic said that the show, if so changed, should be rewritten to bring the truth element into sharper focus and the consequences made more meaningful.

A Look at Lib

Change it to read Woman's Lip instead of Woman's Lib and it'll make more sense.

For all of their equality mouthings, no woman's group has urged legalizing mixed sexes powder rooms for public buildings. We suspect that the day may come when there will be three — "his," "hers" and "theirs" — and when it does, we'll bet there'll be very few "hims" using the "theirs". Men are shyer than women.

Of the females, we suspect there is a greater number who prefer it like it is. Femininity is engendered by the extra services and concerns the male provides. Many do not want to give up the advantages of femininity.

But a prominent Woman's Liberationist said last year before the Boston Press Club such things as these:

"In regard to divorce, we should do away with alimony, and instead those who choose to be housewives should receive legally determined portions of their husband's salaries for which they do not have to account."

"The marriage contract is unconstituitonal.

"Richard Nixon is the most sexually insecure chief of state since Napoleon.

"The law-abiding side of women's liberation is over because they have discovered that law and justice are not always related.

The "woman's liberation" movement is not a revolution but just one more act in the mental warfare that seeks to engage the nation.

Women who decide to take the law of the sexes into their own hands will discover that they are holding a burning issue. Others have tried it to their dismay.

L.G. Trustees Mull Budget

KING'S TROPHY — Francie Williams, of El Cajon, claimed the King's Trophy in Saturday's Lemon Grove Old Time Days Parade, for her pony-drawn "minifloat". The 1½ hour parade, featuring more participants than ever before, went smoothly and started promptly.

$3.7 Million 'Skeleton' Means $1.21 Tax Cut

Trustees of the Lemon Grove School District met Tuesday evening and discussed a preliminary budget of $3.7 million for fiscal year 1973-74.

The budget was originally scheduled to be approved by the board on June 26, but it is possible that approval will be sought at the June 12 meeting instead, as several of the board members have indicated that they might not be able to attend the June 26 meeting.

The budget was called a "slimmed down" document by Superintendent Robert Sutton, who told trustees that there would be little room for additional cuts in expenditures without having an adverse effect on programs of the district.

The budget, representing a considerable savings over last year's expenditures, indicates a decrease in the local tax rate of about $1.21 per $100 assessed valuation.

Lemon Grove property owners are presently paying about $4.04, but the new budget, as mandated by recently-enacted SB-90, calls for a tax rate of about $2.82.

There are still several "ifs" to be considered before the budget gets its final approval. It is possible, although not really probable, that the district will receive Federal Impact Aid funds, and a study is now underway to see where the district can save money on transportation, Sutton said.

The preliminary budget also doesn't include a cost-of-living increase for teachers, although increases in salary due to regular increments and raises are included.

A substantial increase to teachers would hike the budget by $100,000 to $150,000. That would unbalance the budget, and it is not likely that the board will grant a sizable pay hike unless some unexpected funds become available.

In two other items of note, trustees approved letters for three subdivisions, and listened to a report by Verna Quinn of the Broadway Heights Civic Association.

The letters, required by law, are to be sent to the State Department of Real Estate, indicating what school facilities are available, the distance of the development from schools, and transportation needs.

Mrs. Quinn gave background on the proposed College Crest subdivision, located within the San Diego City Limits but also within the boundaries of the Lemon Grove School District.

She sought support for her group in its opposition to the project.

QUEEN'S TROPHY — The Lemon Grove Lions Club, celebrating its silver anniversary this year, was awarded the Queen's Trophy for its entry in the Old Time Days Parade. Other winners included Lemon Grove Junior High, claiming the Marshal's Trophy, and Saint John of the Cross Church CYO, earning the Chamber of Commerce Trophy. Over 20,000 spectators viewed the parade.

San Diegans Charged With L.G. Burglary

Two San Diego men were arrested in Lemon Grove last week and were charged with burglarizing the Lemon Grove Medical Center at 3240 Main st.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, an alarm sounded, alerting deputies of a possible burglary in progress shortly after 10 p.m. May 12.

Deputies were preparing to enter the building in search of any possible suspects when the two men appeared at the main entrance to the facility. Arrested at that time were Jeffrey L. Keller, 24, and Rodney K. Hurt, 23. They were transported to the Lemon Grove substation.

A search of the building revealed that several offices had been entered and deputies noticed several different types of drugs strewn about the floor. It was also determined that some drugs were missing, along with several nickels and dimes from a cash register.

The suspects were unconscious by the time they arrived at the Lemon Grove substation and were subsequently transported to University Hospital for treatment of drug overdose.

In addition to the burglary charge, the charge of possession of marijuana was added to Keller. Entry into the building was apparently made through a vent in the roof.

Tennessee Williams Series Continues At Grossmont College

"The Life and Times of Tennessee Williams," a series of programs devoted to his works, will be continued at 8 p.m. May 29 in the Fine Arts Recital Hall when three of the films based on his plays are discussed.

"A Streetcar Named Desire" and "The Glass Menagrie" will provide the material for interpretive readings by Grossmont College forensic students and the film "Summer and Smoke," based on the Williams play, will be screened.

Starring Geraldine Page, Lawrence Harvey, Rita Moreno and John McIntire, "Summer and Smoke" is the story of a Mississippi minister's fragile daughter as she gropes for the love of a handsome young neighbor who prefers the daughter of a gambling casino owner.

"Summer and Smoke" was selected as one of the 10 best pictures of the year by both The Film Daily and the National Board of Review.

The public is invited to the film and readings from two of Williams' plays. There is no charge for admission.

Miss Rowe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Rowe and is a 1971 graduate of Monte Vista High School. Miss Rowe was listed in "Who's Who in American High School Students." Before transferring to the University's Mexico Campus, she studied at the California Western Campus.

Two Arrested On Marijuana, Beer Charges

Two San Diego youths were arrested near the site of the Old Time Days Carnival last week on charges of possession of marijuana, possession of marijuana for sale, possession of hashish, and possession of alcohol by a minor.

While on routine patrol in the area, a Sheriff's Department deputy saw the two suspects near a parked van, and one of the suspects was observed to drop something into nearby weeds.

Because of the suspicious nature of the suspects, the deputy made contact with Steven R. Carmichael, 19, and retrieved a plastic bag containing approximately one cunce of marijuana from the weeds. He was arrested and searched, and a charge of possession of hashish was added after a small quantity of the contraband was found in his pocket.

The second suspect identified himself as Stephen R. Warmer, 18, and told the deputy that he was the owner of the van. An open container of beer was noted in the van through a window, and he was also arrested. A search of the vehicle netted several additional cans, all full of beer, as well as five plastic bags containing marijuana.

He was charged with possession of alcohol by a minor, possession of marijuana, and possession of marijuana for sale.

Walsh Wants County Motorist Aid Program

Supervisor Jack Walsh was scheduled to present a proposal to the County Board of Supervisors which would bring back a freeway assistance program.

Walsh, is an inter-departmental correspondence, noted that the county freeway system was served for nearly four years by the American Freeway Patrol, sponsored by the American Oil Company.

Last year, however, the motorist aid program was discontinued when the firm closed local stations. When in operation, the program assisted over 15,000 motorists in an average year, supplying free of charge such things as gasoline, tire changes, water, tools, oil, and battery boosts.

"I believe it would be advantageous for us to re-instate this program as a County Freeway Assistance Program," Walsh said. "Such a service, aside from being a highly visible and useful program, can avoid accidents... prevent traffic snarls... and allow more efficient use of Highway Patrolmen... by assisting disabled motorists."

Walsh noted that the county could contract the service from the same organization that ran the American Freeway Patrol, for approximately $152,000 per year.

In his correspondence, Walsh recommended that the board include a county freeway assistance program in the 1973-74 budget after a feasibility study by the county's Chief Administrative Officer.

He also indicated that the board direct the chief administrative officer to explore the possibility of financing the program through gasoline tax revenues.

Under Walsh's proposal, the program would operate seven days per week, from 6.30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Coverage would be of all major freeways in the metropolitan area with six vehicles during traffic peaks, three vehicles during the day between "rush hours", two vehicles after the evening rush, and two vehicles on weekends.

More than half of the proposed cost of the program would be for salaries of those who run it.

Objections Fail To Divert Planners On CdO Development

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—A 40 acre subdivision in Casa de Oro has been approved by the County Planning Commission over the objection of many residents.

The property is located on the both sides of Casa de Oro blvd. about 1,000 feet north of Ramona drive.

Petitions in opposition contained 340 names, but that did not sway the commission.

The planning staff had recommended approval of the subdivision map. It has only 96 lots on the 40 acres, well below the allowable in the R-1 zone which has a minimum of 10,000 square feet.

Featured groups include the wind ensemble, cadet band, symphonic band and concert orchestra, all under the direction of Dean Immel, instrumental music department chairman.

OLD TIMERS — The Lemon Grove Kiwanis club recently hosted its former members — members who had left the organization because of retirement, geography or professional commitments.
From the left are Byron Netzley, Jack Koop and Ed Purtzer, retirees. In the center is Ken Conrad, still an active member who was chairman of the event.
To the right of Conrad is Sam Solleder, Dr. Peter Shea and Max Goowdin. The latter two are not able to attend regularly due to professional obligations. Solleder is a retiree. Local Math Students Score Second Sweep

As if to prove that they really are the best in Southern California, students from the Grossmont High School District swept the top individual honors at the annual Honors Mathematics Examination at UCSD last Saturday, and in the process helped their teams to first, second, and third place finishes.

In competition with students from 26 county high schools, senior Mike Toombs of Helix garnered a near perfect score and walked off with $50 and first place. Grossmont student David Marx was close behind to win the $35 second prize, followed by John Lamping from Monte Vista who gained $20 and a third place trophy.

In the team competition, Grossmont High School placing first, Helix second, and Grossmont schools took all the honors for the county with Monte Vista third. Each school was represented by a six-member team; all competitors were honor students in math. The contest is co-sponsored by the University of California at San Diego and the San Diego chapter of the National Council of Teachers of Math.

Earlier this month, the same three schools swept the top three spots, in the same order, in the National Math Exam for the Southern California region. In that competition they bested a field of 124 high schools.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Tratar" is a very useful word in Spanish. It can mean "to treat" or "to try." In some sentences, a variation of "tratar" may not present a clear meaning unless the context is known. For example "Voy a tratar" can mean "I am going to treat." or "I am going to try."

"Trata" suggests "treats" or "tries" when used with the pronouns "el" or "ella." This is demonstrated in "Ella trata de aprender." (She tries to learn.) and "El trata muchos pacientes." (He treats many patients.).

"Tratado" is a variation of "tratar" which means "treated" or tried." We may see this in phrases like "El me has tratado como un gran amigo." (He has treated me like a great friend.) and "Yo he tratado mi catarro con aspirina." (I have treated my cold with aspirin.).

"Tratamos" is translated "we try" or "we treat." This is expressed in the phrases "Tratamos de trabajar con usted." (We try to work with you.) and "Tratamos esa con medicina." (We treat that with medicine.).

"Trate" is the way to say in the past tense "I tried" or "I treated." This permits us to say "Yo trate de estudiar en la escuela." (I tried to study in the school.) and "Trate a ella como una amiga." (I treated her like a friend).

"Trataron is also a past tense form and is translated "they treated" or "you (plural) treated." This may appear in phrases like "Me trataron muy bien cuando estuve en Mexico." (They treated me very well when I was in Mexico.), or "Ustedes trataron todos iguales." (You treated everyone equally.).

Practice phrases listed below continue to demonstrate variations of "tratar." You may enjoy saving them with the aid of the phonetic guide or the automatic recording that may be heard by dialing 276-2762.

Important Phrases: Say "Vamos a tratar." (VAH-mohs ah trah-TAHR) for "We are going to try."

Say "Tratamos todos los sabores." (trah-TAH-mohs TOH-thohs lohs sah-BOH-rehs) for "We tried all the flavors."

Say "He tratado muchas veces." (eh trah-TAH-thoh MOO-chas VEH-sehs) for "I have tried many times."

Say "Se trata de dinero." (seh TRAH-tah deh dee-NEH-roh) for "It is a question of money."

Say "Nos trataron bien." (nohs trah-TAH-rohn bee-EHN) for "They treated us well."

Say "Como han tratado." (KOH-moh ahn trah-TAH-thoh) for "How they have tried."

"It is our way of paying tribute to the men and women who, as members of the Armed Forces, fought to maintain those ideals of Americanism which we in Scouting hold so dear," said Anthony Anewalt, Vice President of the local BSA Council who will accept the trees. "It is significant that both these men were Scouts in their youth," Anewalt said.

'Ironside' Stars Plan June 2 Tour

Don Galloway and Elizabeth Bauer, stars of the NBC-TV series "Ironside", will tour twelve major shopping centers in San Diego County as well as Miramar Naval Air Station June 2, during the first day of Operation Heart Alert, it was announced last week by Raymond Burr, who plays the title role in the series and is co-chairman of the June 2 and 3 event.

An estimated 100,000 San Diegans will be screened for high blood pressure during two-day program at Community Hypertension Evaluation Clinic Stations located at the shopping centers and at Miramar.

Galloway and Miss Bauer will appear at the Grossmont Shopping Center at 2:15 p.m. and at the College Grove Shopping Center at 3:30 p.m., Burr said.

"I'll be in San Diego on Friday, June 1, to appear on some television programs to promote Operation Heart Alert," Burr said. "If it's at all possible for me to stay over and join Don and Elizabeth on their county-wide tour, I will most certainly do so as I am highly committed to the success of this vital project.

"We will resume shooting of next season's "Ironside" episodes on Monday, however, and I will not only be appearing in the first show, but will also be directing it, so at this moment I can't say for sure that I can make the tour," he explained.

The allocations to members, due to be distributed after the 1973 auctions, are subject to funds being available following this year's COMBO fundraising activities. An unappropriated reserve fund of $37,740 was also allocated to cover special requests and emergencies.

A midway report on COMBO's 1973 Community Spring Campaign was made by Robert L. Miller, campaign chairman. Miller's committee has so far received cash donations of $76,715 from businesses and corporations throughout San Diego County in the drive which ends on June 1.

COMBO, an ecronym for Combined Arts and Education Council of San Diego County, is a fundraising organization supporting San Diego's major cultural and performing arts groups.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Have you gotten the feeling lately, that you're being led around by a ring in your nose? That you're stupid. and so, incapable of making your own decisions? Assembly Speaker, Bob Moretti, talking about death penalty legislation, SB 450, coming up for hearing in Assembly Criminal Justice Committee. firmly believes that! He claims, legislators are not mirrors of public opinion, that leadership is more important than representation! Legislators are our representatives, not our judges! In spite of the "yes" votes on reinstatement of the death penalty of 68.1% in Mr. Moretti's district and 67.5% statewide, he evidently feels the people made a mistake and it's up to the legislators to correct it:

Three of the members of the Assambly Criminal Justice Committee, Assemblymen Crown, Waxman and Sieroty, also announced their opposition to the death penalty. They too, in spite of the large majority of "yes" votes in their districts, plan to block passage of death penalty legislation SB 450! Should they succeed. we do and will have, another time consuming, costly alternative—once again getting signatures on an initiative petition, to put SB 450 on the ballot!

As San Joaquin County petition chairman for the death penalty initiative, I'm acutely aware of the hard work thousands of Californians put into it. Should these four Assemblymen turn their backs on your overwhelming vote?

Write and ask your own Assemblyman to fully support SB 450.

Mrs. Bob Young
Stockton, Calif.

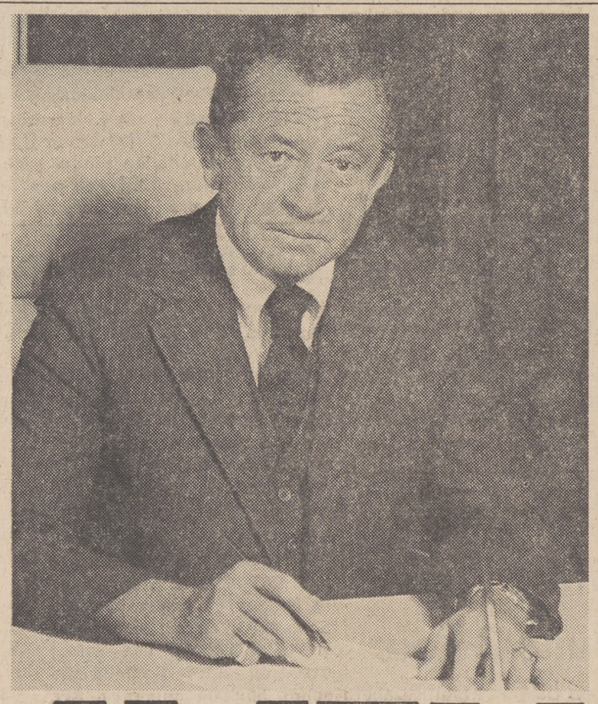
WHILE OTHERS TALK...



SUPERVISOR
BILL CRAVEN
DOES SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

TAX REDUCTION.
Bill Craven is a conservative on financial matters. He believes that the government's share of a citizen's earnings should be reduced. That's why he supports the Governor's tax-limitation initiative. Serving as your county Supervisor, Bill Craven led the battle to reduce your county tax rate. He favors reform of the present inequitable tax system, especially the unfair burden on senior citizens and those with fixed incomes. Bill Craven will continue his fight for tax reduction as our Assemblyman.

LAW AND ORDER.
Bill Craven believes all citizens should feel their person, home, and property are secure. That's why he has always supported measures to increase results and efficiency in our judicial and law-enforcement systems. That's why large numbers of peace officers in the 80th Assembly District are backing Bill. As your Assemblyman he will continue to provide adequate funding for law enforcement. He will demand strict and impartial justice toward the criminal and disruptive elements in our society.

Efficiency In Government.
Bill Craven has proven to be an expert in balancing budgets and making government work within strict fiscal guidelines—while getting the job done. His degree in Economics and wide business background have enabled him to apply sound management skills to government during his 16 years of productive service. To trim the fat from our $7-Billion state budget requires Bill Craven's brand of fiscal efficiency. The elimination of obsolete, nonproductive agencies and programs is a primary goal.

PEOPLE...NOT POLITICS.
Bill Craven believes in people. He listens to people—then he acts. His stands on important issues aren't the products of political compromise or special-interest pressures, but instead are the result of listening to people, analyzing the issues, then taking decisive action. This is why he was the choice of Republicans, Democrats, and Independents in his landslide election to the Board of Supervisors three years ago against seven challengers. Working directly with people in the field, Bill Craven understandably draws his support from people in all walks of life, from all political persuasions, and from all sectors of the 80th District.

A Distinguished 16-year Record of Public Service.
Bill Craven's is a record of dedicated public service which puts him far above the crowded field in the 80th Assembly race. People throughout the District are agreeing they can't afford "on the job" training in this important office. Bill Craven has put in the long hours and long years of preparation and homework that uniquely qualify him to move up to the State Assembly.

Supervisor Bill Craven's accomplishments include: new drug-education and addict-treatment programs, a county clearing house for complaints by senior citizens, stronger programs to protect children from physical abuse, establishment of the district attorney's consumer-fraud section, better equipment and training for sheriff's officers, two new Youth Service Bureaus to serve the North and East County as delinquency preventives, expansion of the North County court system and generally bringing more of the services of county government to citizens in less heavily populated areas.

In the meantime, Bill Craven has found time to provide leadership in civic and charitable causes, such as the Boy Scouts, the United Crusade, and the Heart Fund.

YES, EXPERIENCE IS IMPORTANT!

Grunion Hunters Get Back To Basics; Catch Slippery Fish With Bare Hands

The most basic way to catch fish will begin next month with the opening of grunion season along Southern California beaches.

Grunion fishermen, or more properly, grunion hunters, are as basic as possible, as no rod, reel, net, or bucket is used to catch the slippery fish, which are gathered by hand as they flip-flop up on the beach to lay their eggs.

In fact, it is not legal to use anything but the hands to catch the spawning fish, although it is permissible to use a bucket to hold the catch, once obtained legally.

The grunion "run", as the spawning period is known to those who seek out the eight-inch fish for morning - after delicacies, is a bit of scientific phenomena. Only one other fish, the South American freshwater "characid" comes completely out of the water to lay its eggs. That species leaps from the water and lays its adhesive eggs to the undersides of overhanging leaves near the water's surface.

The female grunion, just after high tide, is carried by a wave until it can no longer swim, then flip-flops to a higher point on the beach and buries her eggs a few inches into the moist sand. Males accompany her and fertilize the eggs as they are hatched.

The spawning period takes a few days after a new or full moon, when the high tides reach their greatest point in the lunar moon. Because it is after the highest tide, water will not reach the eggs again until the next high tide, about ten to twelve days later.

The eggs remain in the sand during that period, then are uncovered by the high tide, hatch within minutes, and the tiny fish swim out to sea, where they will grow to a length of five or six inches before returning to lay eggs of their own.

Male grunion also come up on the beach, to fertilize the eggs.

Catching grunion, with a little practice, is not difficult, but there are a few legal restrictions including using only the hands as previously noted. Grunion hunters may not dig holes in the sand to entrap the smelt-like fish. Those over 16 years of age must be licensed to catch them. There is no limit to the number caught, but it is not legal to take more than can be used.

Nearly every experienced grunion hunter has his or her own "secrets" to a successful evening, but there are a few hints the beginner might consider.

The first thing a grunion hunter must possess is patience, or he may never possess a grunion. While runs generally begin shortly after high tide, the fish sometimes don't appear for an hour or more.

Another important aspect is selecting a good beach. While runs may occur on any sandy beach from Baja California north to Morro Bay in San Luis Obispo County, some beaches have proven more inviting to the species than others.

Flashlights are not a necessity for a run following a full moon, but are handy on cloudy nights and runs after the new moon.

Runs will occur for up to four nights, but the second and third nights are usually best, and the peak of activity is usually about an hour after high tide.

Another question that rises about the slippery grunion is that of eating them. For a satisfactory morning - after breakfast, clean and scale the fish, roll in a mixture of flour, cornmeal and salt, and fry in hot oil until golden brown.

Following is a table of forecasted runs at San Diego area beaches. When times are after midnight, the date of the night before is given.

June 1, 10:55 p.m., June 2, 11:45 p.m., June 3, 12:45 a.m., June 4, 1:40 a.m.

June 16, 10:45 p.m., June 17, 11:18 p.m., June 18, 11:55 p.m., June 19, 12:v8 a.m.

July 1, 11:15 p.m., July 3, 1:10 a.m., July 4, 2 a.m.

July 16, 11:05 p.m., July 17, 11:40 p.m., July 18, 12:20 a.m., July 19, 1:10 a.m.

July 30, 11:20 p.m., July 31, midnight, August 1, 1 a.m., August 2, 2:05 a.m.

Grunion runs taper off and become so irregular after July thta they cannot be predicted, although runs have been known to occur even in early September.

BATTER UP — Not every boy will receive batting tips from Padre outfielder John Grubb but every boy and girl 14 and under who attends the Padres-Phillies game May 25 will receive a bat on Jack-In-The-Box Bat Night. John is showing his son, Chris, 4, how to hold his bat, which is approved for Little League play. Jack-In-The-Box will distribute bats to the first 25,000 youngsters entering the Stadium on May 25. Last year's Bat Night crowd was the largest of the season and fans are urged to purchase their tickets in advance. Persons may do so at the Padres Stadium ticket windows open daily from 9 a.m.

Free Little League Bats to Attract Youngsters As Padres Return Fri.

It'll be batter-up for thousands of young fans when the Padres return home this Friday night and boys and girls receive their own bats from Jack-In-The-Box.

Last year, a crowd of over 35,000, largest of the season, attended Jack-In-The-Box Night and indications are for a similar attendance Friday evening as the Padres open a 10-game home stand with the Philadelphia Phillies.

The first 25,000 boys and girls, 14 years and under, who enter the stadium Friday night will receive a bat, which is authorized for regular Little League play.

And the following evening, young adults will be able to take advantage of a special reserved seat ticket discount—a $2.50 loge level seat for only $1—on Student-Teen Night.

And there will be special prizes awarded Student-Teens as well.

It is fitting that Bat Night arrives at a time when the Padres are displaying the type of attack that has carried the club to fifth place in hitting among all 12 National League teams.

With rookie John Grubb leading the way, the Padres offer a lineup that regularly features three or more .300 hitters and at one time recently as many as six. Cito Gaston and Fred Kendall consistently have been at the .300 mark or higher while Dave Campbell, Leron Lee and Nate Colbert are not far away.

Then there's the dandy dance on the basepaths of Enzo Hernandez who, going into last week's series with Cincinnati, had 11 for 11 stolen bases this season and 25 in a row. The last time Enzo was caught was back on July 19, 1972.

Also, the Padres' already impressive home record this season 12-12 should accelerate appreciably this home stand.

Against the Phillies, Expos and Mets, the teams arriving in San Diego Stadium the next 10 days, the Padres over the last two years have a 35-36 record. Last season, the Padres were 6-6 against both the Phils and Expos and 5-7 against the Mets.

Friday night's Bat Night game against the Phils begins at 7:30, Saturday's Student-Teen Night contest starts at 6 o'clock and there's a Sunday doubleheader (1 o'clock) to wind up the Philadelphia series.

The Expos are here on Memorial Day night and also next Wednesday for a twi-night doubleheader starting at 6.

The Mets and the Padres square off or a three-game set June 1, 2 and 3.

Top Girl Athletes to Compete In Biggest Track & Field Meet

The La Jolla Track club will be host for the 6th annual La Jolla Demon-Kiwanis Games to be held at Balboa Stadium Sunday and Monday.

It will be the largest gathering of top female athletes ever in San Diego.

The Demons have gained considerable national recognition in their four-and-a-half years of existence. In 1971 they captured the girl's title at the National AAU Women's Track and Field Championships. In their short history they have already won over 40 trophies.

The games will be sanctioned as two separate meets to allow the 14-15 year-olds to participate in events on both days.

Up to 1,000 entries are expected from all over the southwest, including 10 former Olympians with over 40% of the 1972 women's Olympic team coming here from S. Calif.

Age group events will begin at 10 a.m. on Sunday: 9-under, 10-11, 12-13 and 14-15 Divisions.

The Invitational meet, sponsored by the La Jolla Kiwanis, is by invitation only and will start on Monday at 10 a.m. Only the top eight performers in each event will take part in the girl's (14-17) and women's competition.

The entry list for the La Jolla Invitational reads like the roster for the 1972 U.S. Women's Olympic Team. 10 former Olympians are scheduled to compete in the meet at Balboa Stadium Monday at 10 a.m.

Top performers scheduled to appear in the 400 are Mabel Ferguson of L.A. who finished 5th in the event at Munich, and Kathy Hammond of Sacramento, one of the top middle distance runners in the country.

Kathy Schmidt, who won a bronze medal in the javelin in the Olympics, will appear. Another top javelin thrower, Sherry Calvert, is a possible entrant. Jan Swenson, who threw the shot in Munich, has also submitted her entry.

Entering into the sprints and the long jump will be Martha Watson, L.A. Track Club.

Last but certainly not least is San Diego's own Olympian, Jackie Thompson of Mickey's Missiles, who will also enter the sprints.

Midgets, Lionettes Battle For Sox Lead

The battle of the service clubs continued in the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League last week as the Lions Club Lionettes won twice, as did the Quota Club Midgets, leaving the Midgets in first place, half a game ahead of the second place Lionettes.

The Lionettes beat the Portraits Tuesday, 29-2, to move into a tie for the league lead, but the Midgets bounced back with a 16-13 decision over the Charmers to move ahead again.

On Sunday, the Lionettes again won an easy one, 18-5 over the Spicers, but the Midgets claimed a 10-9 extra inning victory over the Stylists the same day to move back into the lead. The Midgets own a 6-0 record, while the Lionettes are 6-1.

In other major division games, the Pipers trumped the Stylists, 5-1, as Loraina Byrd twirled a four-hitter and struck out 16 batters for the winners, the Fashionettes beat the Quasarettes, 16-11, the Quasarettes thumped the Pipers, 21-1, and the Charmers edged the Portraits, 3-1, on a one-hitter by Pam Cox.

In the minor division, the standings were jumbled after a week of wild action, although the Smilers managed to remain undefeated in first place by whipping the Orioles, 19-8, and the Rangers, 20-8.

The Nibblers, however, who were in second place last week, lost twice and tumbled into fifth place. Beating the Nibblers were the Demons, who are tied for sixth place, and the Emeralds, who climbed into second place after being tied for the third spot.

The Emeralds also whipped the Ringers, 11-10, in extra innings.

The Koolers, in fifth place last week, also won twice to move into third place. The Koolers stopped the Cherubs, 33-7, and knocked off the Demons, 12-11, in an extra inning game.

In the only other game of the week, the Giants won twice, beating the Cherubs, 21-2, and the Chargers, 4-2. The Chargers beat the Orioles, 22-15, to take over fourth place.

Padre Tickets May Be Key To Youth Track Team Tour

SAN DIEGO — The grand old American pastime of baseball may be the key for the San Diego Youth Track team's trip to Europe this summer.

The San Diego Padres have agreed to help the youth team, which is currently some $28,000 short of its goal for the summer trip.

The Padres have given the youth team 3,000 tickets for the Padre-Houston Astros game Tuesday June 19. The tax deductible tickets will sell for $10 each, with all proceeds going to the youth team.

A 44-day trip to the Soviet Union, Finland and Sweden has been planned. Members of the team, ages 16-19, will come from all corners of San Diego County and will represent this area as international goodwill ambassadors while competing against club and national teams from the three countries.

"We are more than happy to help this cause," said Padre President Buzzie Bavazi. "Anytime we can promote youth activities on a world-wide scale, we are making a positive investment in the adults of tomorrow," he added.

Tickets for the Padre-Astro game are on sale at various outlets throughout the county.

They can be purchased at Madison HS; Lincoln HS; Grossmont College, Mesa College; El Capitan HS; Granite Hills HS; Monte Vista HS; San Dieguito HS; Vista HS; El Rancho Ford in Poway; General Dynamics CRA Clubhouse in San Diego and United Furniture in Mission Valley.

Three Teams Tied In SV Little League Race

Jackson Supply, One Hour Martinizing, and Berg Electric all won single games last week to remain tied for the Spring Valley Little League lead with 5-2 records.

Jackson whipped Luigi's, 5-2, after jumping away to a 3-0 lead in the third inning. Martinizing edged Dial Finance, 4-3, as Mike Delia scored the winning run in the top of the last inning on an error. Berg Electric blanked Letter Carriers, 5-0, on Tony Favale's no-hitter. Losing pitcher Troy Jones twirled a one-hitter but was victimized by errors.

In the only other major division game, Moose Lodge skunked Kiwanis, 10-1, as Ralph Amargo tossed a one-hitter for the winners. Moose scored six of its runs in the bottom of the second inning, aided by John Valluzzi's home run. Amargo added a round tripper in the fourth frame to help his own cause.

The victory for Moose Lodge moved the team out of a tie for fourth place into sole possession of the same position, one game behind the league leaders.

In the intermediate division, Art's Lumber won twice, 17-5 over Heath's Texaco, and 10-6 over Alesi Plumbing, to retain its league lead. Keeping pace in second place was Mission Bay Concrete, after whipping Colwell Insurance, 8-1, and beating Heath's Texaco, 15-5.

In the minor league, Polar Frozen Foods moved into a tie for first place with idle Worth Plumbing by beating Zumwalt's, 15-0 on a one-hitter by Keith Dixon, who also homered for the winners.

In the rookie league, Jackson Supply and SV Shopping Center each split a pair to keep a share of the league lead.

Jackson trumped Pat's Rentals, 26-3, while Shopping Center lost to Jones Insurance, 11-8, giving Jackson the lead in the standings. Shopping Center upended Jackson, however, with a 5-4 victory to move back into a tie for the lead.

Last In Series On Affirmative Action Tonight

The answer to whether the government-mandated employment policy, "Affirmative Action," is a myth or a miracle, will be sought during the last program in a public forum series scheduled for 7:30 p.m. this evening in the Fine Arts Recital Hall at Grossmont College.

Presented by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services, the Heartland Human Relations Association and El Cajon's People for People Program, the series has provided a look at the moral and political ramifications of affirmative action.

The final program is titled "How Have We Put it Together in San Diego and East County? Or Can You Get a Job if You Are a Minority, Female, Handicapped or Gay."

Jim Estrada, comunity affiars coordinator for KGTV-19 will serve as moderator of a panel that will attempt to answer many questions created by affirmative action. The panel will include Robert B. Anderson, special employment coordinator for Sears, Roebuck and Company; Thomas J. Johnson, area staff supervisor for Pacific Telephone Company and Grace Rittoff, a senior consultant in the San Diego office of the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The public is invited to attend the program and there is no charge for admission.

'U' Club Opens Second Annual Fund Campaign

The 'U' Club, athletic booster organization for the University of San Diego, has launched its second annual fund raising drive. A goal of $115,000 has been set to help finance the Torero's intercollegiate sports program which includes football, basketball, baseball, tennis and golf.

Main sources of the fund raising are to be season ticket sales, program and radio advertising, booster memberships and donations, according to Ken Cook, 'U' Club president.

The campaign has been initiated by a $1,000 contribution from the USD student body and a $100 a plate dinner, Cook said.

Season ticket sales are to include special emphasis on Torero alumni, businesses, San Diego attorneys and cooperative projects with area churches and local high schools.

USD president Author Hughes announced recently that football has been taken into the school's NCAA athletic program. It was supported by the associated body on a club-type basis since 1969.

SHAKESPEARE — Bassanio (Carl Reggiardo) listens to Shylock (Joseph Bird) offer a financial loan to Antonio (Richard Greene) in "The Merchant of Venice" directed by Eric Christmas in repertory with "Two Gentlemen of Verona" and "King Lear" during the 24th San Diego National Shakespeare Festival presented June 5 through September 16 at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park, San Diego.

Shakespeare Festival Opens At Globe June 5

A repertory of three diverse dramas from the works created by William Shakespeare will be presented this summer at San Diego's Old Globe Theatre.

Recreating the brilliance, excitement and splendor of sixteenth century England, the San Diego National Shakespeare Festival is performed in a functioning replica of the original Globe Playhouse in London where Shakespeare's plays were originally performed.

The trio of plays produced this season during the twenty-fourth festival at the Old Globe Theatre will open June 5 and continue through September 16. Producing Director of the Old Globe Theatre is Craig Noel.

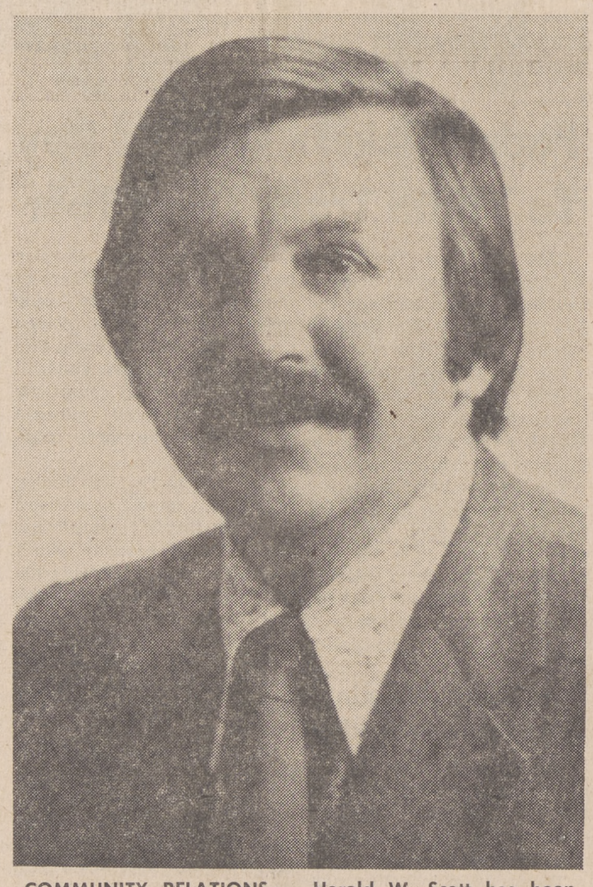
Inaugurating the summer festival June 5 will be the romance and drama of "The Merchant of Venice." As conceived by director Eric Christmas, the popular play is being designed and staged "in a free interpretation influenced by the manners and mores of the early Italian Renaissance."

The famed confrontation between the money lender Shylock opposed by the Venetian establishment creates some of the finest moments in all of world drama. During the past two summers, director Christmas has staged "Love's Labour's Lost" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Costumes have been designed by Douglas Russell with the setting designed by art director Peggy Kellner.

Utilizing the Shakespearean text, director Allen Fletcher and composer Conrad Susa have created a musical comedy of "Two Gentlemen of Verona." Costumed in the late seventeenth century in a fanciful comedia del arte style by Edguard Johnson, the plot revolved around the romantic complications involving two pairs of young lovers. To open on June 8, romantic rivalry, disguises, parental disavowal and betrayed friendships provide comedy elements in "Two Gentlemen of Verona."

The repertory of productions will be completed this season with "King Lear." The great tragedy will open July 10 under the direction of Edward Payson Call. Lear, the aging medieval English monarch, divides his kingdom between three daughters the size of each portion to be determined by proof of affection by each daughter for their father. Call directed the tragedy "King Richard III" last summer for the Old Globe Theatre. Miss Kellner will design the costumes for "King Lear."

A contrast to the San Diego National Shakespeare Festival at the Old Globe Theatre will be two contemporary plays at the adjacent Carter Centre Stage. Noel Coward's sophisticated romantic comedy "Private Lives" and the musical comedy of a happy marriage "I Do! I Do!" will be directed by producing director Craig Noel. The two productions will open a summer-long run on June 26 with alternating performances nightly except Monday, plus matinees Saturday and Sunday.



COMMUNITY RELATIONS — Harold W. Scott has been named manager of community relations for Rancho San Diego Land Company, it was announced today by Leonard Graysen, executive vice president and general manager. Scott comes to Rancho San Diego from the Lebanon Housing and Redevelopment Authority, New Hampshire, where he served as chief executive and administrator.

Riley, Jones Booked For Cage Camp

Future basketball players will have the opportunity to sharpen their skills and techniques while receiving ball handling instructions from All-American Pat Riley, Los Angeles Lakers guard and Coach K. C. Jones of the San Diego Conquistadors during Grossmont College's third annual basketball camp.

Offered by the college's Office of Community Services, the summer basketball camp will meet from 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturdays, starting Junne 18.

With an anticipated enrollment of more than 350, the participants will be divided into groups by school grades. Classes for the first group of 10th, 11th and 12th grade students will begin June 18 with the second group for 6, 7th, 8th and 9th graders scheduled to commence June 25 followed by classes for 3rd through 7th grade students July 2.

According to camp co-directors Bill Gillespie and Felix Rogers, the basketball camp will feature the best coaching staff available in the area with special ball handling instruction given by pros Pat Riley and K. C. Jones.

With at least 12 coaches giving personalized basketball instruction in Grossmont College's two gymnasiums, class size is kept to a minimum and each participant receives individual attention. Basketballers will have the opportunity to review their performance in every aspect of the game on "instant replay" television video tape. The college's weight room will also be available where each basketballer will receive instruction on the proper and safe use of weights. Daily instruction periods will be climaxed with a "dip" in the college swimming pool.

Davies, George To Reopen Coliseum for Ring Shows

SAN DIEGO (Special)—The announcement that old-fashioned swat-and-duck boxing and grunt-and-groan wrestling will return to San Diego next month caused a ripple of excitement among contact sports fans this week when it was announced that the Coliseum will reopen in two weeks.

Well, not exactly the old-fashioned Coliseum as we knew it, but a freshly refurbished, sweet-smelling emporium of sweat, which has undergone a rather comprehensive face-lifting.

What's more, when boxing and wrestling returns next month, it'll be under the guidance of two highly-respected promoters---Mickey Davies and P. L. "Pinky" George.

Davies will serve as president of his own firm, Mickey Davies Promotions, Inc., and act as promoter-matchmaker for the boxing events. His first fight card will be held Friday, June 8.

The main bout at the "new" Coliseum June 8 will be California Heavyweight champion Jack O'Halloran vs. Howard "K.O." Smith with a 13-1 record. Smith, a former inmate of Colorado State Penitentiary, fought more than 50 times as an amateur while incarcerated.

Prior to that, on June 5, the first in a series of wrestling bouts will be held. The opener will pit Mexico's Ray Mendoza against Canada's John "golden Greek" Tolos.

Three near-by parking lots will be manned for sports enthusiasts, the promoters said.

"Boxing will be presented at the Coliseum on a regular, every other Friday basis," Davies announced at Monday's luncheon meeting of the San Diego Sportscasters-Sportswriters. He also said he has signed a three year lease on the building at 15th and E.

George will be the Coliseum's wrestling promoter and will hold his first show there Tuesday, June 5. Wrestling will continue on a weekly basis, he said.

New Paint

Reference to the "new" Coliseum was made by Davies and George following six weeks of work renovating the interior of the building. A crew applied 143 gallons of paint to almost every square inch inside the Coliseum.

General admission seating are painted yellow, the reserved section blue and ringside gold. In addition, many of the chairs were replaced at the venerable establishment which dates back to the 1920's when it was a focal point for sports events in San Diego.

MICKEY DAVIES

Davies has even gone to the extent of placing attractive displays of cactus plants in the entrance way. "Kind of adds a little color and class to the place," Mickey noted.

Combined experience in boxing and wrestling by Davies and George total nearly three-quarters of a century. Both men are well-known throughout the world for their achievements in all phases of their respective sports.

Davies, 54, has acted as matchmaker for a number of San Diego promoters. His first local show was at the Coliseum in 1966 when heavyweight Ski Goldstein knocked out Don Koontz. Later he made matches for Pro Boxing, Inc., at the Community Concourse, Bill Miller at the Coliseum and in March of this year put the undercard together for the Muhammed Ali - Ken Norton fight card at the Sports Arena.

Was L.A. Matchmaker

Davies has also acted as matchmaker for the Los Angeles Forum boxing organization and promoted his own fight cards throughout California. Television viewers recognize him for his work as a boxing commentator from Los Angeles.

Pinkie George has had 43 years experience as a promoter in both boxing and wrestling. He also boxed professionally for 10 years and during 1925-26 was the world's number eight flyweight.

Born in Lowell, Mass., of Greek parentage 68 years ago, George for 51 years has called Des Moines his home.

Pinkie discovered, developed and managed a number of top heavyweight contenders while active in boxing. The list includes Johnny Paycheck, Lee Savold, Abel Cestack and Alejandro Lavorante.

George has an extensive background in other sports. he was the first owner of the then Waterloo Hawks of the National Basketball Association in 1944 and also owned a Des Moines pro hockey club. Pinkie also served as vice-president of a minor league baseball team in Waterloo.

PINKIE GEORGE

Commenting on his move to San Diego and the Coliseum, George said: "This may very well be my last hurrah and I see it as both a challenge and a fresh start. I look forward to bringing wrestling back to the place it once had in this comunity."

Working with Davies and George on promotion of the Coliseum boxing and wrestling shows will be publicist John Greensmith. A former newsman for 13 years in San Diego, he has assisted local promoters since 1957 with both boxing and wrestling. Recently he acted as operations director for Sports Promotions, Inc., with the Ali-Norton fight at the Sports Arena.

Program On Aging Ends College Series

The series devoted to the mysteries of birth, childhood, adolescence and aging presented by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services and the San Diego County Library, will close when Katherine M. Watson discusses "The Autumn Years" at 7:30 p.m., May 29 in the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, 8053 University ave., La Mesa.

Mrs. Watson, who was recently appointed executive director of Adult Protective Services, a San Diego County geriatric mental health agency providing social services to seniors, has extensive experience in the mental health field.

During her presentation, Mrs. Watson will screen two films, "The Art of Aging," in which four elderly persons share with the audience their creative lives and philosophy of age, and "How Could I not be Among You?" which features the agony, hope, terror and faith of a gifted young man during his final days.

The public is invited to attend the program and there is no charge for admission.

Call Goes Out For Girl Skaters For Hockey Play

The San Diego Dolphins, local girls amateur hockey team playing out of the House of Ice, split the last two games.

Shelly was voted the most valuable player.

Then they were shelled by the Culver City Flames 0-4 with Pam Becker as mvp.

Other outstanding players in the recent doubleheader were Judy Misensol, Ellen Brakespeare, Cindy Taylor and Terri O'Brien.

Lynn Pankhurst, team manager, said the Dolphins lack depth. "We need two or more girl players to fill in as other team members tire," he said.

"We need players for our pre-teen girls team, too," she said. "Any girl 6-12 wishing to try out for the team should show up with her equipment at the 5:15 practice period."

Those who want to talk about getting on one of the girls hockey teams may call House of Ice, 461-0800 or Mrs. Pankhurst at home, 420-0167.

Blocks used by meat butchers are generally made from sycamore wood because it is extremely hard to split.

DOG-GONE — Maggie's fun in the surf is restricted for the rest of the summer. As of the first of May, she and other pets are to be off the beaches of the county between the hours of 8 a.m. and midnight, leaving the recreation areas for people. The ordinance will be enforced by county lifeguards as well as animal regulation officers.

Dr. Timothy Shea Awarded Degree in Podiatric Medicine

Timothy P. Shea of Lemon Grove, California received the degree of Doctor of Podiatric Medicine from the California College of Podiatric Medicine, San Francisco, at commencement exercises May 19. Dr. Shea was one of two who presented the senior address at the ceremony. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter E. Shea, 2362 Golden Avenue, Lemon Grove. Podiatry is the treatment of ailments related to the foot—including surgery.

A graduate of St. Augustine High School in San Diego, Dr. Shea received his B.S. degree from the University of San Francisco.

While at CCPM, Dr. Shea served as Class President in 1970 and as Student Body President in 1971-72. He has been a member of Pi Omega Delta fraternity and Pi Delta National Honor Society, and he is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, 1973.

After residency training at the Podiatric Medical Center, San Francisco, Dr. Shea plans to go into practice either in San Diego or in the San Francisco Bay Area.

CCPM is one of five U. S. institutions, and the only one in the west, which prepares young men and women for professional careers in podiatric medicine.

A concentrated, accelerated program now leads to a degree in three full calendar years rather than four academic years.

The Doctor of Podiatric Medicine must successfully meet requirements to obtain licensure in all 50 states. Privileges granted him by licensure are identical to those granted physicians and dentists — the rights to make independent medical judgments and to diagnose, prescribe drugs, and perform surgery on human patients.

1600 Foster Parents Honored By County

"The kids don't forget us when they leave — that's our greatest reward," said one foster mother. "They seem to always remember and many keep in touch."

The County of San Diego doesn't forget foster parents either, according to Mrs. Barbara Penn, recruiter for the county's foster home licensing section. Foster Parent Appreciation Day is the county's way of saying "thank you" to the more than 1600 foster parents in this region.

Foster parents who have contributed from 5 to 25 years of service were singled out last week at appreciation day ceremonies.

County Chief Probation Officer Ken Fare presented the awards to the foster parents. Colleen O'Conner, Legislative aide to the California Assembly Select Committee on Foster Care, also participated in the ceremonies.

Those honored came from communities all over the County — from Alpine to San Diego, from Oceanside to Imperial Beach.

Included among those receiving recognition were Mr. and Mrs. Brian Claxton and Mr. and Mrs. John Peck, of Lemon Grove, who earned five-year awards, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hada and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, also of Lemon Grove, who earned ten-year honors.

From Spring Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Highfill, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sunbury all got five-year awards. Mr. and Mrs. Filiberto Munoz, also of Spring Valley, got the ten-year award.

"There are no typical foster parents," Mrs. Penn said. "This year's honorees include a grocery clerk, a fireman, an auto mechanic, and just about any other occupation; but first and foremost, they're parents concerned about someone else's child."

Children need full-time foster parents for many reasons. Some have been released for adoption and are waiting a permanent home. Others are victims of a family crisis and need short-term care. Some have parents who are physically or emotionally ill, alcoholic, or financially unable to care for them. Some are orphans.

About 2,000 children in San Diego County are in full-time homes. They range from tiny infants to teen-agers. Another 1,900 youngsters are in licensed day-care homes while their parents work.

"These day care homes offer more than just babysitting," Mrs. Penn said. "The parents are assured that while they are at work, their children are cared for in a safe, warm and supervised environment."

San Diego County has 800 foster homes, but always needs more, said Mrs. Penn.

PTA Highlights
